SELECTMEN'S STATEMENT

We wish to call the attention of the voters of the town to the amount of money asked for in the various articles in the Town Warrant.

If you vote the amounts asked for, based on the last year's valuation, it means nearly or quite a four dollar tax rate. At January settlement we were confronted with nearly four thousand dollars ($4,000) paid out for snow removal in the past year, and we have a large deficit to make up from last year.

Now give this your earnest consideration before voting on these articles.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I herewith submit my fifth annual report. The statistical tables are arranged by schools and sections the same as in last year's report. With the exception of the High School, the enrollment totals for both years, are almost identical. There are however some interesting differences in individual schools; Contoocook lower grades and West Hopkinton show marked variation in the number of pupils enrolled this year as compared with that of last year. A careful study of the West Hopkinton situation, during the summer, showed conclusively that the number of pupils for September would be too large for a one room school, with all eight grades represented. After considering various plans for consideration with the Emerson Hill and Hatfield districts, it was decided to leave these two schools as they were and build a partition in the West Hopkinton room. This was quickly done without great expense and with no permanent alteration of the building. We now have two rooms; one accommodating 20 children distributed through the 5 upper grades and 16 children in the 3 lower grades. The advantages of the new organization have been apparent from the first. The lower grades have thus far shown the greatest improvement. While we are unable to give the two upper grades all Junior High advantages, they are making better progress than would be possible with 8 grades in one room. I hope conditions in West Hopkinton will warrant a continuance of the 2 room school.

The High School enrollment, 38 this year, is much smaller than for a number of years past. The present outlook is for about the same number next year, and a much larger enrollment the following year. The real problem comes next year in the Junior High. The enrollment this year is 29, with a prospect of 14 going on to the High School. That will leave 15 in the room. We expect to promote 21 from the 5th and 6th grade room, thus making a total of 36 for Junior High next year. It is possible to crowd 30 pupils into the room, but that is at least 6 too many for comfort and health. It will be necessary to meet this problem in some way before school opens next September.

The State Board of Education has succeeded in so developing the state normal schools that they are able to supply all New Hampshire schools, city, village and rural with well trained teachers. Hopkinton has, including Junior High, 8 village schools, and 7 of these are now taught by normal school graduates. Two of the 5 rural schools are served in like manner. The 4 High School teachers are college graduates. The report given above shows that Hopkinton is making use of the advantages offered by the State Board.

I wish to call especial attention to the honor roll of perfect attendance. 123 pupils were able to be at their school work every day for one term or more. The average attendance for all schools for the entire year was nearly 94% perfect, a record of which all concerned may be justly proud.

For the past two years some of our teachers have assisted in making a special study of the subject of reading. Educators are now generally agreed that this is the most important subject of the entire curriculum. We found by special tests that a large number of our upper grade pupils, and a few in the High School were unable to read independently and rapidly with good understanding of what was read. We traced the problem of these non-readers back through the grades and discovered that while from the beginning they had passed through the assigned course and made all the motions, the expected results had not, in their particular cases, been obtained. We therefore conclude that learning to read is much more than teaching the mechanics of reading to a class or grade. It is a highly individualized process. The work of a class or grade in reading is not complete until every individual can read books suitable to his age and grade, independently, rapidly, with good comprehension, and above all with pleasure to himself. Children who have had a great deal of pre-school association with good literature through the daily story hour and looking at pictures, usually reach this stage before the end of the first year in school. Others with poorer background, reach it during the second year, while a few without helpful pre-school influences, do not reach it until the latter part of the third year. This goal, or end, is after all only the beginning. As the child develops physically and mentally, the teaching to read process must still go on even to the end of the Senior year in High School. Good books must be supplied in large numbers from grade to grade as the child is able to handle the more difficult subject matter. To this end I recommend that little school libraries be developed for each grade, thereby enabling the teacher to guide and instruct the individual child in his independent reading. Local public libraries in many communities are co-operating by having an up to date children's department. Our State Library is doing a great work in sending cases of children's books, on request, to our rural schools. Some of our Hopkinton schools receive the benefits of this service.

Under the present State plan for State wide supervision of schools, Hopkinton is in a union with Henniker, Weare and Dunbarton. Schools and teachers are distributed as follows:

Hopkinton has 14 schools and 18 teachers; one teaches music only.

Henniker has 9 schools and 13 teachers; one teaches music only.

Weare has 13 schools and 15 teachers.

Dunbarton has 5 schools and 5 teachers.

In closing I wish to express appreciation of the whole-hearted co-operation of school officials, parents, teachers and pupils which has made the work both pleasant and successful.

Respectfully submitted,

GAIUS H. BARRETT, Superintendent.
